DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) THE NAMES OF THE PARTIES TO A JOINT RESEARCH AGREEMENT.
- (e) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC.
- (f) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (g) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (h) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (i) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (j) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (l) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

It is suggested that applicant use the above listed headings.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because at pages 2 and 3 there are cited claim numbers, which is inappropriate for U.S. practice. Correction is required.

See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 4 it is unclear how the step of "synchronizing" is achieved or what action is actually defined by the step.

In claim 10 there is recited no structure for creating the signal which represents the temperature of food in the pipe.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9, 11, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McFarlane et al. in view of Crookes.

There is disclosed in McFarlane an apparatus for heating and cooling food, comprising: a rotating first closed pipe serpent 44 extending from an entrance side 42 to an opposite output side 62; a heating fluid (steam, col. 6, lines 59-68) for covering a lower part of the first closed pipe serpent; a rotating second closed pipe serpent 44" at a displaced horizontal level from the first closed pipe serpent, the second pipe serpent including an entrance side 42" for receiving food which has exited the output side of the first closed pipe serpent; a cooling fluid (col. 8, lines 36-42) for covering a lower part of the second closed pipe serpent; an ejector pipe 40 connected to the entrance end of the first closed pipe serpent; a loading chute 32 for supplying food; and a control unit (col. 5, lines 22-40) sending a control signal to control the quantity and speed of food supplied.

Crookes discloses a mixing closed pipe serpent, wherein in a cross section of an axis, the closed pipe serpent has a non-circular, multi-angled shape encircling the axis, the angles allowing for a thorough mixing of fluids flowing through the pipe.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the cross section of the first and second closed pipe sections, with respect to the axis of rotation, with that taught in Crookes, in order to improve the mixing ability of the pipe serpents.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12, 13 and 16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Cassaday et al. and Stevenson, III are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
